

AN
ACT OF THE SENATE
TO

CLARIFY the position of the Pavlovian Emperor as the AUGUSTUS of Rome

Be it enacted by HIS IMPERIAL MAJESTY THE FAITHFUL PAVLOVIAN EMPEROR AND AUTOCRAT OF THE ROMANS AND ALL RUS', Defender of the Faith, Turtle and Elephants, in the Eighth year of His Imperium and in the first year of the consulate of Princes Christophoros Sclagamarus filius Drakon and Comes Eduardus Robertus filius Gundersovus, in the year Seven thousand Five hundred and twenty eight after the creation of Adam, by and with the advice of all Senators, and by the authority of the same, as follows:

- I. This Act clarifies the position of the Pavlovian Emperor as the Augustus, sets punishments for Impericide and Treason and finally establishes a commission for the codification of the Codex Alexandrus.
- II. The Senate of the Empire of Pavlov hereby reiterates her position that the Pavlovian Monarch is the current Augustus (Emperor) of the undivided Christian Roman Empire, and that only the legitimate successors of HIM Emperor Alexander IV under Pavlovian law can be considered Roman Emperors, and other Monarchs recognized as such under Pavlovian law.
[Amended on 14077528 by LXXII Alex IV Tsisarhorod]
